Changing the name of Account [REDACTED] 200/5 at Taif Branch from the name of Honorable Zayd Attia al Harithi [Illegible] Saad to the name of Al-Haramain Islamic Foundation and keeping the authorized signature of Brother Zayd al Harithi for the new account

May the peace, mercy, and blessings of Allah be upon you.

- This is with reference to the subject matter above. It was referred to us to update on the possibility of changing [Illegible] Al-Haramain Islamic Foundation's account [REDACTED] 5/20/2, dated 26/05/1420 AH (September 06, 1999 AD). Please note the following:
- When changing the name of account, the basic rule is closing the old account and opening a new account with a new number and a new name, so that the accounts are not mixed up while using the two accounts, and this specifies the company's responsibility.
- Since this account number was identified by those who use it for transactions, and since it belongs to Al-Haramain Islamic Foundation in fact, it is approved to change the account name in the same old number, provided that the holder of the old account and the Foundation authorize the account's correct number and hold the company harmless regarding the account. Please keep the Foundation's original letter (which is returned to you) in Al-Haramain Islamic Foundation's file at the branch. According to the letter, Al-Haramain Islamic Foundation authorized Honorable Zayd al Harithi to sign for the new account.

May Allah assist and bless you.
